Dear Eric:

Here is the material on James and his son Thomas Archer but as I said in my email, I'm not sure that this Thomas is yours. This James b. 1726 is supposed to be the son of John Archer and Esther Irwin. Maybe more research will help make the connection to your Thomas. Feel free to contact me again if you want a recheck on any new Archer-related names.

Correspondent Source Cited on the Group Sheets

The correspondent sources are keyed to the respective worksheets and may be able to provide you with additional information which they have not yet provided me, since several years may have passed since I last heard from them. The correspondents have number like 38/89 at the start of each paragraph of data or in the lower left corner of a page. I've included a list of their names and addresses below so you can contact them. Otherwise the sources should be shown on the attached sheets and all facts cited on the group sheet should have a corresponding source on the attached sheets.

Sources for the material on the worksheets are indicated if documentary, but in many cases they came from others who are related or who simply contributed the material without having a research interest. I must caution you to use all of this material with some care, as much of it has not been checked against original records but may still be valuable as a guide for verification and further research.

Treat anything in pencil (handwritten as suspect or needing more proof). There is some material, like the names of children themselves with no data, that came from M.B. Archer's book. I did not cite him as the source (sloppy- just starting out) but rather used his listings as an outline to verify using local records. Use the index to his book and you will find where I got material on the group sheets not otherwise sourced on the attached sheets.

Descendants of Robert Archer

Generation No. 1

1. ROBERT[1] ARCHER. He married UNKNOWN.

Notes for ROBERT ARCHER:
There is still in existence a paper evidently written by Dr. John Archer, M.B., between May 1785 and October 1786 with additions made by his youngest son, Stevenson and others at a later date which is entitled "The Descent of the Archer Family" and is the best, if not the sole evidence extant upon that subject. It names as the earliest known ancester of this family, Robert Archer, but fails to state either the name of his wife or the place of their abode. The only child of theirs of whom this authority seems to have knowledge was John Archer whose wife was Esther Irwin. The latter seems to have come to Nottingham, Cecil County, MD in the first quarter of the 18th century with four children; it is supposed a widow at that time. She later married Moses Ruth and went with him to Carolina where she died in 1786.

The weight of evidence is largely in support of the tradition that these Archers were Scotch-Irish and had imigrated from the north of Ireland. They were certainly Presbyterians. It is well know that a large imigration of this people occurred about that time to western and central New York, to the Cumberland and Shenandoah Valleys, to Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and to the Uplands of the Atlantic seaboard.

son of Thomas of "The Retreat," Harford county Maryland, born Feb 23, 1768, died there Oct 7, 1821, read medicine with his father, passed at University of Pennsylvania, practiced in lower part of Harford county 1788-1821 (married June 9, 1803, Elizabeth Paca Phillips, daughter of James and Martha (Paca) Phillips and granddaughter of John and Elizabeth (Smith) Paca, ancestor of Governor William Paca, the Signer); son of John of "Medical Hall," Harford county, Maryland born May 5, 1741, died Sept 28, 1810, educated at West Nottingham Academy, A.B. Princeton College 1760, A.M. same 1763, studied Theology but abandoned it for medicine when he studied with Dr. John Morgan, attended lectures at the College of Philadelphia and June 21, 1768 received M.B., the first medical diploma given in the New World, practiced at Delaware, but removed to near Churchville, Maryland, active Revolutionary patriot, member of Maryland State Convention 1776, also member of U.S. House of Representatives 1801-1805 (married Oct 18, 1766, Catherine, daughter of Thomas and Mary (McKinney) Harris and had five sons, doctors and one, a lawyer, [he, Thomas, was an Indian trader and iron worker, born 1698, died 1801, lived in three centuries) (sic- author calling attention to discrepancy in this data)]; son of Thomas of Harford county, Maryland born probably in Cecil county, Maryland 1720, died in Harford county, Maryland 1772, came to Baltimore county 1750, purchased tracts of land 1752 and 1769, portions of which are still in possession of his desceandants, planter, storekeeper, member of Presbyterian Church (married Oct 22, 1739, Elizabeth Stevenson, died 1774, age 60); son of John (married Esther Irwin, and had four children: Thomas, Nathaniel, Esther, James).

The will of Moses Ruth of Harford Co., mentions Dr. John and James Archer and Esther Hays. You said that you believe that John Archer (b. ca 1680 died an his wife Esther md. Moses Ruth. I have not seen the original will of Moses or his wife Esther but the transcript says she talks of a grandson Dr. John, so your conclusion that Dr. John (son of Thomas & Elizabeth Stevenson Archer who was son of John and Esther Irwin) would be a strong circumstantial case that Esther Irwin remarried Moses Ruth sometime after 1724, the date of the birth of John and Esther's oldest child, Esther.

The James named in Moses Ruth's will would more likely be James b. 1726, son of John and Esther Irwin, making this James the step-son of Moses'. You believe this James might have been Nathaniel (son of John and Esther) but I have no evidence of this and if this were true, why would this James not also be called a "grandson" as Dr. John was in Moses' will.

The abstracts of the Maryland marriages (p. 160- source not identified) that shows James Archer and wife Ruth but that she was the daughter of Moses and Esther RUTH sourced to Wills 3 folio 11-23 would suggest that his wife' SURNAME, not GIVEN NAME was RUTH, meaning that James may have married a step-sister, or that this James is a different James from the son of John Archer and Esther Irwin. This latter statement is supported by a secondary (accurate?) source Colonial Families of the United States, Vol II, ed by George Mackenzie, Gen Publ. Co., 1966 p. 20, that has James b. 1726 md. Catherine Mortimer 18 Jan 1752. I'd have to see the will cited in Vol 3 to see if there were two James or if James remarried (?). You may have received this will by now from Harford Co., and I'd be interested in the results.

Dear Carolyn:

I was doing some house cleaning of my desk the other day and discovered three fat packages of material you sent me between July 1988 and July 1989 on your Harford, MD and Indiana line. I'm sorry it took me so long to get around to review the material that I said I would look at in 1988. Here is an attempt to answer some of your questions with each paragrah below keyed to your original letter as indicated:

Letter dated 6 Jul 1988

The will of Moses Ruth of Harford Co., mentions Dr. Joh and James Archer and Esther Hays. You said that you believe that John Archer (b. ca 1680 died an his wife Esther md. Moses Ruth. I have not seen the original will of Moses or his wife Esther but the transcript says she talks of a grandson Dr. John, so your conclusion that Dr. John (son of Thomas & Elizabeth Stevenson Archer who was son of John and Esther Irwin) would be a strong circumtantial case that Esther Irwin remarried Moses Ruth sometime after 1724, the date of the birth of John and Esther's oldest child, Esther.

The James named in Moses Ruth's will would more likely be James b. 1726, son of John and Esther Irwin, making this James the step-son of Moses'. You believe this James might have been Nathaniel (son of John and Esther) but I have no evidence of this and if this were true, why would this James not also be called a "grandson" as Dr. John was in Moses' will.

I have been meaning to return to the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore and to visit Harford Co. to gather some data, but have been stretched too thin on a number of other projects to get back to this. Perhaps soon, as there is a wealth of material in both places, not to speak of the Hall of Records.

The abstracts of the Maryland marriages (p. 160- source not identified) that shows James Archer and wife Ruth but that she was the daughter of Moses and Esther RUTH sourced to Wills 3 folio 11-23 would suggest that his wife' SURNAME, not GIVEN NAME was RUTH, meaning that James may have married a step-sister, or that this James is a different James from the son of John Archer and Esther Irwin. This latter statement is supported by a secondary (accurate?) source Colonial Families of the United States, Vol II, ed by George Mackenzie, Gen Publ. Co., 1966 p. 20, that has James b. 1726 md. Catherine Mortimer 18 Jan 1752. I'd have to see the will cited in Vol 3 to see if there were two James or if James remarried (?). You may have received this will by now from Harford Co., and I'd be interested in the results.

You mentioned that you received the will of James Archer (SR 1-86) instead of the one you wanted and that this James (md. Margaret Ross) may have died in Port Gibson, MS 15 May 1815. If this is the same one, it seems strange that his will would have been probated in Harford Co., MD. Could you give me a copy of this will? There is an Henrico Co., VA line of Archers who also went to the Port Gibson area, and it is always possible that Colonial Families got the lines mixed up or is in error.

91/98 File: James Archer b. c. 1726

From: Guilford Co., NC Will Abstracts, 1771-1841 by Irene B. Webester, 1979.

Mary md. William Hamilton with no children noted in Hamilton's will probated Aug 1799. William Hamilton may have died on 26 May 1785 and then the will was set aside by actions of a nephew, George Hamilton. Mary remarried to William McElhatton.

From: Buffalo Presbyterian Church and Cemetery, Greensboro, NC by Donnell, Donnell, and Browning, The Guilford Co., Gen. Soc, Greensboro, NC, 1994.

James and Catherine Mortimer are buried in lost graves at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church, which they helped found.

* The following group looks to be the Thomas and John that left Guilford Co., NC by 1800 for TN. (sons of James b. 1726?)

Thomas Archer was a juror several times in 1806. In early 1807 Thomas deeded the land he lived on to James Archer, witnessed by John Archer. In late 1807 Thomas deeded the land he lived on to his son, John H., witnessed by James and Thomas (are there two Thomas here?). By 1809 John H. was making his own transactions, selling three slaves.

Thomas Archer died in 1818 in Dickson Co, TN. His wife was Polly, remarried to _____ Brown. Thomas had two minor children, Maria and John.

Apparently, John H. also died in 1818, Eleanor Parrish is appointed administrator of the estate in Oct 1818. John Archer land was sold for heirs in 1819, it was adjacent to that of Thomas Archer.
